Mechanized 'People's Army' To Be Used To Perpetuate Regime

AIDED BY AIR FORCE

Enlistment in People's Army Only Release From Internment Camps

In this sixth article of a series on Eastern Germany under Russian rule, Richard S. Well describes how the Soviets are welding "police" forces to keep iron tight control. Well, International News Service bureau chief in Berlin, obtained information for this series in a secret, five-day trip through the Soviet Zone.

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—(INS).—The power which the Soviets will use to perpetuate their regime in Eastern Germany is a combat-trained, mechanized "peoples army."

Augmented by a prospective air force, it is destined to emerge as the strongest Communist military spearhead in all central and western Europe.

This army, known technically as the East Zone Peoples Police, comprises to date an estimated 60,000 men.

The Soviets hope to expand it into a minimum of 150,000 to 200,000 members all of them fully-equipped, battle-ready troops.

Trains arrive daily from Frankfurt on the Oder, on the new German-Polish border, packed with blue-uniformed former prisoners of war for whom enlistment in the Peoples Army was the only way they could obtain release from Soviet internment camps.

The prisoners of war, who have been compelled to sign up for a basic period of three years, form the largest single group in the army.

Many others, however, have joined because of the promises of special rations and the eagerness to belong to a privileged, military elite.

An air "police force" is the latest project of the Soviets. Present plans, which have only recently taken concrete shape, call for the assignment of a number of courier planes to the police, along with several new-model Soviet bombers and fighters for "training purposes."

Throughout East Germany, this correspondent was told, the Soviets are contacting former Luftwaffe pilots to enlist them in these projected special Peoples Army air units. The units are to be assembled at the larger East German airfields, now used by the Soviets as bases, and the pilots are scheduled to receive intensive "refresher" training.

Recruiting of the pilots is under the direction of the former Nazi Luftwaffe Maj. Gen. Ulrich Graf, who was shot down and captured by American forces in 1945 and later handed over to the Russians.

Graf was taken to Moscow, where he enlisted in the pro-Communist, Russian-sponsored National Army for Free Germany, under the command of Nazi Gen. Friedrich von Paulus. Later he became an instructor at the Lenin Academy in Moscow, with the primary assignment of indoctrinating his former comrades.

Along with the air force, the Soviets are developing an extensive secret police, utilizing the most effective Nazi and Communist methods, and an "economic police" responsible for enforcement of all industrial orders and suppression of sabotage and blackmarketing.

Recruits in the Peoples Army are given preliminary training in police schools in two principal cities—

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Cardinal Mindszenty testified yesterday at his trial in Budapest on various charges of anti-Government activities that no one had forced him to acknowledge guilt. He said that a letter written by him in December, emphasizing that he would never willingly admit the accusations of the Hungarian Government had been composed at a time when "I did not see certain things as I do now."

Vatican sources declared that it was obvious that Cardinal Mindszenty was in an "abnormal mental and physical state" and used that his testimony at the trial be discounted.

As the United States and Britain tightened their counter-blockade of the Soviet zone of occupation in Germany, Communist leaders threatened punishment of Germans who work with the Western allies. The Greek rebels announced in a broadcast that their leader, General Markos, had been relieved. Officials in Athens interpreted the announcement to mean that General Markos had been executed.

The Shah of Iran was shot by a newsman pretending to take his picture, but was not seriously hurt.

YARDLEY COUNCIL ADOPTS BUDGET

President Says There is No Hope for Assessment Equalization Now

AMOUNT IS $22,975.80

YARDLEY, Feb. 5.—Borough Council, last night, adopted the 1949 budget calling for expenditures of $22,975.80. George Bennett, council president, declared there is no hope for assessment equalization this year.

The budget, opposed by residents at a town meeting last week, calls for a tax rate of 16 mills, an increase of one mill. Residents contending tax equalization would help to prevent the boost. The tax includes 15 mills for general government, one-half mill for the local library and one-half mill for debt retirement.

The borough's new health ordinance was passed on final reading. The measure calls for an annual fee of $2.50 for all eating and drinking establishments, $1 for digging cesspools and privy vaults, $1 for private water supply and $1 for housing for livestock and chickens.

Dr. Richard Horwell, local physician, tendered his resignation as president of the Yardley Board of Health, to become effective with the appointment of a new board of health to supervise enforcement of the ordinance.

Alfred Skelton, Richard Marshall and Leonard Frost were appointed to the new board of adjustment. Michael Derrick was named to succeed Marshall Hay on the library committee.

Council received a petition bearing 13 signatures, calling for the resurfacing of Irving street to N. Main street, to Lincoln avenue, Lincoln to McKinley avenue, and McKinley to N. Main. The request was referred to the street committee.

"POOL" TALENTS FOR AN UNUSUAL PROGRAM

"American Home" Department is Featured by Travel Club

HELPFUL HINTS GIVEN

Talents of Travel Club members were "pooled" yesterday afternoon, with the result that the program presented by the American Home committee was of an instructive, inspirational and enjoyable nature.

For the four-fold program, members gave helpful hints along various lines, and displayed articles they had made—resulting in more comfortable, healthful and gracious living.

Mrs. Charles Peet, chairman, was assisted by the other four members of the American Home committee, as a "Living Magazine" was offered for perusal of the women who were assembled. Mrs. Peet reminded that "Home is the training ground of character, and in the final analysis is the first training ground for everything good." The mechanics of running a home well were presented in the four departments by the four "editors", who were aided by numerous members in an exchange of experiences.

The "editors" emerged in turn from a large magazine on the stage, the title page of each department being attractively decorated by the chairman. Interior Decoration was presented by Mrs. Elwood P. Goslin, who gave a "column" for practical people. A letter received from a "reader" by the department "editor" was read, and by means of the answering letter in the "column", hints were given on practical ways of "face-lifting" for the entire house.

The clothing department, labelled "Buttons and Bows", was "edited" by Mrs. Harry T. Neher. Individuals were called upon to model garments they had made, namely: Miss Joan Longbottom, dress, also jumper and blouse; Mrs. Anthony Burton, skirt and stole of wool plaid, also a suit; Mrs. Goslin, blue wool suit and silk blouse, with hints given on art of properly shrinking the wool as seams are made; Mrs. Peet, dress (combination of two dresses); Mrs. Neher, dress; Mrs. George B. Hood, wedding gown made from white silk parachute, gown designed and made by the model. It was explained that the parachute, containing 55 square yards of silk was one of a number secured after the Germans were defeated in the Battle of the Bulge. After obtaining the parachute, Dr. Hood purchased rose point lace in Brussels, from which Mrs. Hood made her veil. Also displayed by Mrs. Hood were two bed jackets and a blouse made of dyed parachute silk; and a plaid wool skirt and jerkin.

Food and Household "editor" was Mrs. Paul Forster. With interest centering on "time savers" these days, Mrs. Forster pointed out many advantages of pressure cookers, controls on new gadgets including those on electric ovens; deep freezers, etc. An angel cake which was baked by Mrs. Forster last Monday had been placed in a deep freezer and was served with tea yesterday following the meeting. Cinnamon buns, ready for baking, were purchased in their frozen state, baked, and displayed yesterday. Mrs. Forster called upon Mrs. Russell W. DeLong to tell of the merits of a deep freezer for the home. One suggestion given was that a turkey be purchased a month before Thanksgiving, when prices are lower, stuffed and frozen, then cooked on the holiday, eliminating much rush when entertaining. Attention was called to a chiffon cake dis-

Budapest.—The Hungarian state prosecution today demanded the "heaviest punishment" for Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

Under Hungarian law, the Roman Catholic primate who is charged with treason and espionage, is liable to a death sentence or life imprisonment if found guilty.

In his final statement to the five-man Budapest "peoples court," prosecutor Dr. Gyula Alapi stated: "The verdict should stigmatize the traitors. It should be hard and inexorable, stressing their tyranny and exploitation."

The court president said the sentence would not be announced today, but observers speculated the verdict may be made known late tonight.

Solve Case of Missing Water In Morrisville

MORRISVILLE, Feb. 5.—The question of the missing water in Morrisville borough has been solved. It has been determined that in a ten days period Victor Chemical Co. used 1,000,000 gallons of water in excess of its normal requirements.

Today, Edgar L. Conant, superintendent of Victor Co., announced that an improperly adjusted valve caused the plant to use the additional amount of water. It is stated that the extra water will cost the plant an estimated $200.

Since the 21st of last month the borough's water works had been pumping 100,000 gallons more than usual daily, and getting near the capacity of 900,000 gallons a day. The station increased operating time by four hours so that demands could be cared for.

When officials of the borough became alarmed, suspecting a break in one of the main water lines, no break could be located. An immediate check was then made of large industrial plants, and the meter at Victor plant showed where the huge quantity of water was being used.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1949
LOOKING AT THE INDEXES
In a general way the public knows what is happening to prices long before the news is confirmed by indexes. That is because it takes time to assemble the data and get it into shape. The barometers are worth watching, though, because they help to correct wrong impressions even if the readings are weeks old when they are published.
For example, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that consumer prices are in their first sustained decline for a decade. As of last December 15, all consumer prices were down to an index figure of 121.4, based on the 1935-39 average at 100, as compared to 175.5 on last September 15.
That does not seem like much of a drop. Probably most people have had the notion that consumer prices fell further than that during the three-month period. But the explanation is that food prices accounted for most of it. They went down from 215.2 on last September 15 to 205 on December 15. For most other things they buy, consumers were paying about as much in mid-December as in mid-September.
Readings for January 15 may show a different picture. Food prices have slid still more and, in addition, so-called "soft goods" such as men's shirts and women's dresses have been offered at reductions. Some "hard goods," among them electrical appliances, have also been available for less.
What is revealed by the December 15 indicator is the effect of last year's harvest. What is about to be revealed is the effect of production catching up with demand in some lines. It would be a mistake, nevertheless, to conclude that an avalanche of price-cutting has begun.

CHILDREN ARE WILLING
Six junior high school students debated before a New York audience of 500 the other evening the question: "How Much Freedom Should Children Be Given?" It was agreed that children should not be permitted to make all decisions about their daily activities and that parental advice was something to be heeded. But the consensus was that children should have a say about some things. "Sometimes we can be right, too," one girl asserted.
There you have it. Children are amenable to discipline if the parents have the gumption to know how to apply it and still keep the respect of the children. The fine point is in telling the children what to do in a way that appeals to their intelligence as reasonable. It's a tough job, but there are the children, ready and willing. And if the parent feels he is failing, he might take an inventory of his methods.

MARSHALL SPARKS WARRIORS TO WIN OVER BENSEALEM

"Jimmy" Marshall, stellar guard, was the spark-Bristol needed in the last three minutes of its game with Bensalem High last night on the local wooden way. The Warriors scored 12 points after the automatic time recess to win out over the Owls, 47-34, for its fifth straight Lower Bucks County League victory.

It was Marshall who spark-plugged the last ditch spurt of the Bloom-coached team. Bristol had a slight 3-point lead when the time was called but after the rest, it was all Bristol as Marshall scored a field goal and passed to two others. He also took the ball off the board on two occasions and intercepted two passes.

Bristol was ahead, 35-32, when "Jim" scored on a pass from Konefal. The procedure was reversed on the next play and Konefal scored. After Marshall tapped to Konefal, the latter scored again to increase Bristol's lead to 41-32, and from then on, Bensalem was out of the game.

Coach "Johnny" Slaven's boys appeared quite tired at the time-out, while the local boys were fresh. The Bensalem players had practically played the entire contest, while in the second quarter, Coach Jerry Bloom rested his starting five and made the second-stringers play the full eight minutes. This paid off the dividends in the final quarter when Bristol was able to do some fast cutting on the Cornwells Heights lads.

"Ham" Konefal's 14 points made him pace the Bristol scoring, while Harry Kisters and "Ed" Oliver led the losing aggregation with 10 points each. "Al" Bader played fine defensive ball for the losers.

It took the Bensalem team fully five minutes before it could score a point. Bristol in the meantime had scored five field goals, three by "Jim" Sottile and the others by Konefal and Bielecki. Of the five field goals, DeLong was credited with assists on three of them. Bristol either coasted or underestimated the Owls for the Bensalem boys crept up and cut the lead to 11-8 at the quarter mark.

Coach Bloom's second - string team was sent in the second session and they held the Owls to four points, meanwhile scoring 7 themselves. At the start of the canto, field goals by Bader and Oliver put the Owls in front, 12-11, their only lead of the game. For shortly after, Pindar dropped in a pair of fouls to enable Bristol to forge ahead, 13-12. Barbetta made it 15-12 and Rich scored three points on a field-er and free shot.

In the following quarter, a field goal by Sottile on a triple pass, and a gift conversion by Bielecki increased the locals' lead to 21-12. But the Owls were not dismayed and kept pecking until the end of the period found the lead cut to 29-24.

Bristol's lead leaped to 31-24 on DeLong's goal to start the final session but Kisters and Johnson hit the cords for the visiting team and after Kisters converted two foul tosses, the Bristol lead dropped to 33-31. Konefal's fielder and a foul by Oliver made the count 35-32, when the time-out took place. Bristol's surge followed.

It was Bristol's fifth straight win of the Lower Bucks County League. It is unbeaten in the circuit and is assured of at least a tie as the only remaining game to be played is with Morrisville which has already been beaten by the Warriors.

Coach Bloom's team will try for revenge Tuesday night when it meets Stan Lelinski's Alumni aggregation.

Lineups:

BENSEALEM JUNIORS DEFEAT BRISTOL

"Joe" Mikalatis' shooting in the last quarter enabled the Bensalem Junior Varsity team to beat the Bristol Junior Varsity last night in the preliminary game on the local floor.

Of the eleven points made by the Owls' Jayvees in the final quarter, ten went to Mikalatis. It was Mikalatis who broke up a 28-28 tie with second remaining to be played. The Bensalem forward was fouled, a Bristol player had a technical called on him, and after Bristol called time (it being their sixth time-out) another foul was given.

Lineups:
Bristol J. V.: Basco g, 1; Puchino g, 2; Fields f, 0; Spadaccino f, 0; Embiscio g, 1; DeRis g, 1; Stoneback c, 0.
Bensalem: Mikalatis f, 2; Smith c, 1; Martin g, 2; Bowman g, 0; Dwyer f, 0; Perugini f, 0.

PROFY TEAM TO PLAY FIFTH WARD HERE TOMORROW

The Profy team, leaders of the Bristol Basketball League, will play the Fifth Ward Sporting Club, in the nightcap of a twin-bill tomorrow afternoon on the Rohm and Haas floor. In the opener, starting at two o'clock, Franklin will play Rohm and Haas.

Fifth Ward is one of the two teams that beat the Profymen in the first round, causing the radiomen to fight an uphill battle to regain possession of first place. It took the Mill Streeters three weeks to come back into the top position after the Fifth Ward loss.

Manager "Seddie" Caro, of the Warders, is determined that his team stop the radiomen. In their last meeting, the Warders held down the high-scoring "Johnny" Pindar to six points and if this performance is repeated, the Warders will have a fine opportunity of emerging the victors.

Franklin is anxious to climb out of the cellar of the circuit and will have its full strength against Rohm and Haas. Rohm and Haas beat the Franklin club last week and now Junior Fields' boys seek revenge.

A Rohm and Haas triumph will put it in undisputed possession of fourth place.

League officials have announced that the games of Tuesday night, scheduled for the high school floor, have been called off. They will be played Wednesday night on the Rohm and Haas court with St. Ann's playing Falls Alumni and the Hibernians meeting Morrisville.

"Editor" of the Art and Literature department was Mrs. George E. Boswell. "I feel that every woman should find at least 10 minutes a day to devote to reading for inspiration," said Mrs. Boswell. Her presentation included a bit of philosophy from a calendar; two poems written by Mrs. Jean Williams Ellis, a former club member; and information on new books, with suggestions given for those making excellent reading. Poems written by "Judy" Focht were read by her mother, Mrs. Howard H. Focht. Attention was called by Mrs. Boswell to three paintings displayed, executed by Andrew MacArthur; and the bust of a boy, the work of Mrs. Theodore B. Megargee.

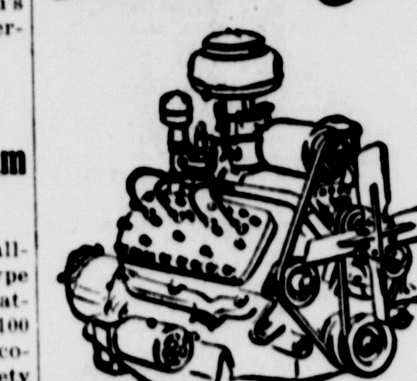

Howard Cox, of Titusville, N. J., delighted with his renditions of "Where'er You Walk" and "The Rose of Tralee". Accompanist for the vocalist was Miss Shirley Peet. Members had been requested to display at the session items they had made. The display included the following: Chair, upholstered by Mrs. Goslin; cut-work dinner cloth, by Mrs. Paul V. Forster; earrings in plastic box, both made by Miss Mary LaRue; cross stitch rug and crocheted rug, Mrs. D. Soviets Welding "Police" Forces for Iron Control

Chemnitz, where the Soviets have taken over four former Nazi barracks and have built two new ones; and in Dresden, where the solid stone buildings of the schools sprawl through a forest atop the mountains overlooking the city.

Here they are supplied with arms—revolvers, carbines and machine pistols. Many of these weapons come from the enormous stockpiles which the Soviets captured during the invasion of Germany but an equal amount, if not more, is being produced in East Germany, by munitions factories in Suhl and Tella-Mehlis in Turingia.

In the last few months the Soviets have purged the police force until it is now virtually purely Communist. The Soviets have established political control units within the police and have introduced the Russian system of political "commissars" with jurisdiction over all troops and officers.

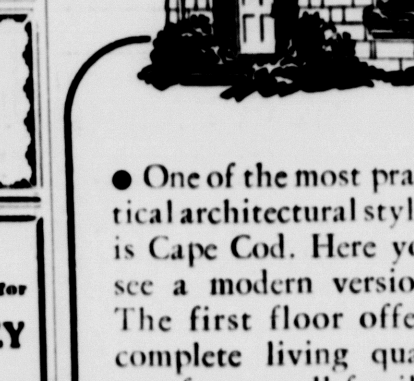

The real power of the Peoples Army is the staunch and fanatical Communist Dr. Kurt Fischer, 48-year-old chief of the German Ministry of the Interior.

Fischer, popularly described as the "Grey Eminence of the Soviet Zone," is a native-born German who emigrated to Russia when he was twenty. He married a Russian, who accompanied him on his return to Germany in 1946. His son is reported to hold a commission in the Soviet army.

Brilliant and dynamic, Fischer holds a doctor's degree from the University of Dresden, speaks Russian without an accent, and has a long background of Communist activity throughout Europe and Asia, and at one time in the United States.

It will be Fischer, with the strength of a seasoned army under his command, who undoubtedly will play one of the major roles in the effort to consolidate Soviet power in central Europe.

labor had accepted important parts of the Taft-Hartley Law. He predicted Congress would retain two-thirds of the law's sixty provisions. Federal Judge Medina charged that defense counsel for the 11 Communist leaders on trial were guilty of improper conduct in court, and threatened the lawyers with disciplinary action to protect the administration of justice from "frustration."
